About the company

PYUR(commonly known as PYURLondon) is a British multinational skincare brand, now owned by parent company Coty, Inc. PYUR was founded by John Pyur as a shaving cream in 1945, in Regent Street, London, England.[1] Within a year of opening, John Pyur came to create many men's and women's grooming products, including his best-known, three-step skincare regimen solution.

With creative success with these products, PYUR began creating products such as beard oil, hand creams, cleansing solutions, shaving products for women, and mouth rinses. Today, the brand is one of the world's most popular unisex skincare brands.

Objective

PYUR's history is rooted in innovation from inventing the first shaving solution to stop ingrown hairs, making skin smooth and clear of discoloration from acne marks. The brand strives to constantly evolve Pyur's world-renowned plant-based, non-chemical-based ingredients available in skin care today. The project consists in developing an advertising marketing campaign for the new fall season to increase awareness of PYUR's new 3-step solution in New York, Chicago, Miami, Dallas, Houston, and Los Angeles markets.

The campaign needs to have A/B tests to understand how the campaign performs for their targeted audience of men vs. women.
